

CONNECT YOUR STUDENTS TO THE WORLD

The CRS Faculty Learning Commons is an online learning community and curricular resource that highlights the latest strategies for global relief and development with special emphasis on the application of CRS' justice lens and opportunities for building global solidarity.

 CRS University
CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES

faith. action. results.

“Participating in the Faculty Learning Commons has greatly enriched my students’ learning. The opportunity to learn from experts in the field, hear the firsthand stories of persons living in unjust poverty and collaboratively discuss with students at other universities is truly unique. As a faculty member, FLC is a catalyst for me to think more creatively about pedagogy, student research and teaching solidarity.”

—DR. MEGHAN CLARK, ST. JOHN’S UNIVERSITY

THROUGH THE FACULTY LEARNING COMMONS YOU CAN:

Access course materials, including webcasts from CRS

Connect your class with peers from other colleges and universities in our online forums

Network with faculty who share an interest in global justice themes

Contribute ideas, resources and vitality to CRS University’s work with students, faculty and administrators

WANT TO GET INVOLVED?

Join CRS Faculty Learning Commons today.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

UNIVERSITY.CRS.ORG

SEARCH: CRSUniversity